Water Recreation Ends When Pollution Begins

(Seventh in a Series)

A moonlight sail beneath twinkling stars. A splashing swim through washing waters. A sunrise vigil with a fishing pole.

The waters of Illinois are motioning to you to stop and play, to delight and refresh, to pause and reflect. And ever increasing numbers are answering the summons and are heading for the shores, and the meadows surrounding the lakes, the rivers, and the streams.

To some the water's attraction is the competitive race, to others a tension release, and to still others an aesthetic uplifting.

The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation reports: "Americans continue to turn to the outdoors for recreation, relaxation, and rewarding use of their leisure time as never before. By the year 2000, our participation in the major forms of summertime outdoor recreation activities will be four times greater than it was in 1960."

With one decade almost gone, it's time to consider if Illinois' recreational facilities are expanding rapidly enough to meet the needs of the year 2000. And the answer is "No." And what's worse, some of the existing bodies of water have deteriorated to the point that, in their present condition, they are unsafe for swimming, skiing, boating; unsafe even to be near. Why? Because they are polluted.

And polluted water is dangerous, harmful, even destructive to man, animal and property.

When you swim in polluted water, you flirt with intestinal disease, skin irritation, rashes, eye, ear and nose infection. Instead of providing a much needed change of pace, your happy holiday to the shore leaves you burdened—with physical discomfort and burdened with doctor's fees when it was physical and mental renewal that you were seeking.

A sudden change in water temperature, while momentarily inconveniencing to the swimmer, can create mass fish fatalities, leaving many fishermen without trout and bass bites. Temperature variation often the result of an industrial institution dumping water used for cooling into a stream, can create an increase in animal growth, without an accompanying rapid oxygen build-up, and end in too many death certificates for too many sport fish.

And the principal in the song favorite of all would-be nomads, "My Heart Goes Where the Wild Goose Goes"—is not immune to the perils of water pollution. For a landing on an oil-coated stream could be a last landing for wild geese. Their oil weighted feathers could cause them to drown, a sight that would be horrifying to a child, devastating to an adult. Oil is also a fire hazard that, upon lighting, could turn boats and docks into ashes.

Silt, which darkens the stream, and algae, which sometimes produces an unpleasant odor, together negate the aesthetic qualities which draw people to walk the beaches, to travel the boundary roads.

Because water pollution knows no boundaries, not even political boundaries, it is probable that the pleasure giving hours are numbered for the unpolluted waters of Illinois today as bodies of polluted water flows into the now unpolluted water.

But, those who love the water and want it to ripple brightly for their children and their children's children can do something to assure that unpolluted water will remain unpolluted and polluted water will become unpolluted. And you can do more. You can provide the new recreational facilities that are so badly needed now—Illinois is near the bottom of the states in amount of public recreational areas—and that will be so desperately needed in 2000.

The Bureau of Outdoor Recreation predicts that by 1980, swimming will become the number one outdoor recreation activity and will hold that spot in the year 2000. Now, in 1968, very few of our public bodies of water are entirely free of pollution.

By 1980 there will be 13 million people demanding boating, camping, swimming and fishing water within easy driving range of their homes.

Citation, Medal For Bob Zubor

Spec. 4 Robert L. Zubor, with the 1st Air Cavalry Division of the United States Army was recently presented with an air medal and a special Citation by direction of the president at Quang Tri, Vietnam.

The award was given for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. The citation read:

"Zubor actively participated in more than twenty-five aerial missions over hostile territory in support of counterinsurgency operations.

"During all of these missions, he displayed the highest order of air discipline and acted in accordance with the best traditions of the service.

"By his determination to accomplish his mission in spite of the hazards inherent in repeated aerial flights over hostile territory and by his outstanding degree of professionalism and devotion to duty, he has brought credit upon himself, his organization and the military service."

Zubor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zubor, Sr., of Antioch. He is a 1965 graduate of Salem Central High School.

Two Krantz Children Hurt In Crash

Connie and Cathy Krantz, ages 12 and 14 of Indian Point, were passengers in the car of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Niemoth of Chicago and three of their children, when it rolled over, hit an embankment on Rt. 12, south of Old McHenry Road, Sunday, causing the death of both Mr. and Mrs. Niemoth.

Cathy and Connie were badly bruised and cut, as a result of the accident, and three of the Niemoth's eight children, Tammy, 2, Steven, 7, and Laura, 5, were

Boat Checks To Be Made Next Week

Article VII of the Lake County Board of Health Ordinance requires that toilet facilities on boats on lakes and streams in Lake County be sealed and preclude the dumping or discharge of sewage, garbage and other wastes into the water.

The reason for these regulations is to conserve the recreational resources of our lakes and streams and to minimize health hazards that could result from the discharge of wastes from boats into the lakes.

The pollution potential of wastes from boats, and wastes from shore installations, includes possible disease causing organisms, organic material that contains dissolved oxygen in the water, particulate and oily substances that float or remain suspended and this make the water turbid and unattractive looking, and dissolved inorganic substances (phosphates and nitrates) that serve as nutrients for algae.

Our inland waterways are particularly sensitive to algae problems. These free living, microscopic plants utilize sunlight for energy and metabolize dissolved inorganic minerals for food.

When nutrients are plentiful, they grow in numbers sufficient to turn a lake into what appears to be a split pea soup. Many algae are washed up onto the windward shores, where they decompose; this results in an unattractive shoreline and odors.

When a very large population of algae occurs, the lake is said to be experiencing a "bloom." Under these conditions are nutrients in the lake are reduced (being converted to algae cell tissue) or exhausted, and many of the algae die.

The algae cells then may be considered to be a pollutant because they then begin to decompose and in the process the dissolved oxygen in the lake is used up. When this occurs the water may darken or turn black and anaerobic (putrifying) bacteria take over.

When this occurs, floating masses of decomposing material are buoyed to the surface by the gases that are produced during the anaerobic process. The gases contain sulfur and are very odorous.

When the process is complete, the residue subsides to become an addition to the bottom muds. The nitrates and phosphates are still present to serve, when the bottom muds are stirred up, as nutrients for future algae generations.

Our program is based on minimizing the additional pollution and nutrient burden that is added to the lakes each year and this is the basis for prohibiting their discharge into receiving waters.

The program consists of checking boats at marinas and other docking places to verify that dis-

Seek Queen For National Air Program

Selection of a Miss Lake County Aviation to reign over the National Air Shows, Inc., performance at the Waukegan Memorial Airport Sunday, Aug. 18, will be one of the high spots in the two-day celebration of the Illinois Sesqui-centennial being co-sponsored by the City of Waukegan, the Waukegan - North Chicago Chamber of Commerce, and the Waukegan Port Authority.

Entries for the Miss Aviation contest should be sent to the Chamber of Commerce, 228 North Genesee Street, Waukegan, prior to August 10th. All Lake County single girls between the ages of 18 and 25 are eligible to compete for the honor title and the gifts which accompany the selection.

Girls wishing to enter the contest should send a picture and a letter giving their age, vital statistics, and a brief biographical sketch to the Chamber of Commerce.

Finalists in the contest will ride in the Sesqui-centennial parade, Saturday, Aug. 17, and the final judging will take place at the lakefront Saturday night, according to Lou Brydges, Chairman of the Chamber's Harbors and Aviation Committee.

Making the selection will be a panel of judges which includes

Maxwell Street Sale Successful

Antioch's Maxwell Street Days were the most successful that the town has ever known, according to many of the local merchants. Crowds jammed the town early Thursday morning, and continued coming through Saturday.

People came from all over looking for bargains, and they were not disappointed. A Chicago lady, living in Fox Lake, commented: "Antioch's Maxwell Street Days are the best of any town I've been to. They put name brand merchandise out and the values are tremendous."

The next event will be "Bust the Bank", a promotion being sponsored by many of the local business men. The participating merchants are: State Bank of Antioch, Reeves Drug Store, Hahn Jewelry, Barnstable Dept. Store, Klass Men's Store, Wilton Electric, Antioch V&S Hardware, First National Bank of Antioch, Gibbs & Jensen, Antioch Savings & Loan, Antioch Drugs, The Shoe Box and King's Drug Store.

"Bust the Bank" will run for ten days from Aug. 14 to 24.

Pond Delayed

It was also reported at the meeting Tuesday that work on the proposed sewer lagoon near the Antioch sewer plant has hit a snag.

Mayor Toft reported that the low bidder could not come up with a bond and therefore all bid bonds of the four bidders would be returned.

Toft said that there is about twice as much dirt to be removed from the site as at first thought and that a whole reassessment of the situation would have to be made.

It had first been thought that the lagoon could be in operation by Oct. 1 but whoever gets the job in the future will have to hurry to make that date.

There is a pressing need for the ponds because state officials have requested that it be in operation by this summer.

The dirt contract was the only one let and there are numerous other projects that must be completed before the ponds are in operating order.

Sign Ordinance

The board also sent back for further study a proposed sign ordinance that would have made a good many business signs in Antioch non-conforming.

The ordinance, in its present form, sets up criteria for the size and use of signs and also the number.

One sign per building is all that the proposed ordinance would allow and conformance is requested by May 31, 1969.

Violation of the proposed sign ordinance would be a misdemeanor or calling for a fine of up to $500 for every day the violation continues.

The proposal would also set permit fees ranging from $3 to $26.

The ordinance also regulates the use of signs on the ground and above the ground.

The purpose of the ordinance, it was explained, was to remove many eyesores from the village.

Some trustees complained about the conformance date which prompted village attorney Edward C. Jacobs to comment that some date had to be put in or the ordinance would be useless.

He agreed, however, that with all the comment from the trustees the proposal would need more study to satisfy everyone.

Industry Near

Village engineer Frank Angelotti also presented to the board plans for sewer and water development of a five-acre industrial site contiguous with the village limits.

The property is situated east of Main Street and north of North Avenue and is part of a 25-acre plat.

Mayor Toft said he would not name the possible developer at this time but that it would be a good thing for the village if the property were developed.

He said he plans to turn over the estimates to the developer and then await his reaction.

The land, if developed, would be annexed to the village and there is a possibility, Toft said, that all 25 acres would be developed.

Angelotti pointed out that the plans he had made were adequate to take care of all 25 acres.

Toft also said that test borings have already been made on 40 acres of land, for possible industrial development, inside the village.

The results of the borings, however, have not been certified as yet.

Permission Granted

The Village Board also granted permission to the Antioch Moose Club to erect signs at the entrances to the village saying "Protect Our Children" if the club gets permission from the state.

We Add Thanks

The Antioch Rescue Squad is often taken for granted.

It is always there, ready to serve.

But it goes about its business without any fanfare, not expecting a pat on the back and very seldom getting one that people know about.

This time we want to put our thanks in public print.

One of our employees suffered a very painful injury and was confined to his quarters.

He finally had to be transported to a hospital and so the reliable Antioch Rescue Squad was called.

They responded with their usual promptness that we have taken for granted and did the job with a great deal of gentleness which was gratefully appreciated.

We just wanted to add our thanks.

A Sad State

Recreational facilities are sadly lacking in the State of Illinois and unless pollution problems are solved the space is even going to get smaller.

The Chain O' Lakes area is a prime example of the state letting its natural resources go to pot.

And in the areas of the state that do not have our home-made recreational areas it is even worse.

There is presently a study being conducted to determine what can be done to enhance our recreation area.

One suggestion we might make is to dredge out the connecting channels of the Chain and use the material to reclaim swampland.

Illinois has 5.6 per cent of the nation's population, but the residents must share .05 per cent of the country's recreational land.

The present amount of public land and waterways under the state's conservation control is about 100,000 acres, a far cry from the at least 250,000 acres needed if the state is going to come close to providing the recreational facilities for all its people.

It is a shame that of the some 50 state parks which offer recreation opportunities, the majority are far behind in providing up-to-date facilities.

Only a few have swimming facilities and only Illinois Beach State Park in Zion has the only public beach in the entire state park system.

Only five of the state parks provide overnight accommodation in lodges.

Experts say that by the year 2000 swimming will be the most popular of water sports.

At the present rate our conservation department is traveling, we are going to be left high and dry.

And in the meantime, the revenue from the tourist trade is going somewhere else.

Your Congressman.

Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

Much more than "cronyism" is involved in President Johnson's nomination of Justice Abe Fortas as Chief Justice and Judge Homer Thornberry as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. If Justice Fortas and Judge Thornberry possess all of the qualifications desired for service on the Supreme Court, their long and close friendships with the President would seem to be small reason for the Senate not to confirm these appointments.

However, Senator Robert Griffin of Michigan has presented a studious review of the underlying constitutional role of the United States Senate in granting or withholding its "advice and consent." Senator Griffin has pointed out that James Madison, who himself favored a strong executive, nevertheless advocated that Federal judges should be named by the United States Senate. This proposal was later compromised to permit the President to make such appointments with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Former Senator Paul Douglas, of Illinois, declared on an earlier occasion that "The advice and consent of the Senate required by the Constitution for such appointments was intended to be real, and not nominal." Senator Douglas noted that the drafters of the Federal Constitution "were fearful that if judges owed their appointments solely to the President the Judiciary, even with life tenure, would then become dependent upon the executive." In other words, as Senator Douglas emphasizes, the naming of Federal Judges have required the "joint action" of the President and Senate.

Accordingly, it would appear appropriate for the members of the Senate to investigate more than merely the legal and judicial backgrounds of Justice Fortas and Judge Thornberry. In fulfilling their role the Senators have a constitutional right and obligation to question the philosophy of judicial decisions which may affect the Nation's future as directly as do any actions of the Congress or of the President himself.

However one may view Justice Fortas' position in supporting reversal of lower court conviction in obscenity cases, it is abundantly clear that a motion picture, regarded as obscene by certain Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, may raise serious questions as to the advisability of elevating him to the office of Chief Justice.

In reviewing Judge Thornberry's record, attention has been drawn to the case of University

"America Is Not A Sick Society" Says Hoover

Let us stop condemning our whole populace for the sins of a few. Let us stop this nonsense of self-reproach and self-ridicule and throw off the guilt complex which threatens to envelop our country. When we face adversities and tragedies let us do so with resolute confidence, avoid panic, and reserve judgment until all the facts are known. Historically, Americans are doers, not worriers. No country has ever done, or is doing, more for its own underprivileged citizens and for the unfortunate people of the world than the United States. Our record speaks for itself. We have no reason to be ashamed; indeed, we have much to be proud of. This is not to say that our society is infallible and has no problems. We do make mistakes, and we do have many great problems. But they are not insurmountable if we do not despair.

Some of our difficulty today arises from the fact that too much attention is given to various dissident elements which have a lot of noisy energy but little purpose. Many of them are complaining about conditions which they helped to create. Now they want our whole society to plead guilty to mass ineptness. This is ridiculous. A noted columnist, commenting recently on the guilt complex sweeping our country, said, "I am tired of the hangdog American... a guy who lives in the greatest country on earth and feels he has to apologize for his own existence." The hangdog American is in danger of losing the fierce independence and self-pride of his pioneering ancestors. He is not only capitulating to his carping critics—he is becoming his own worst critic by doubting or distrusting his own obvious virtues: courage, ingenuity, loyalty, generosity, idealism. That is the worst thing that can happen to any man—to lose faith in himself.

To me, this makes sense. Courage, ability and pride are hallmarks of success in any endeavor. A defeatist attitude is seldom associated with a winner or a leader. America is a world leader in the cause of justice, liberty, and the dignity of man. We have no reason to act or think as losers or second-rate citizens. It is time for Americans to shed their apologetic demeanor and stop belittling themselves. The hard-working, tax-paying, law-abiding people of this country are responsible for its growth and development. They provide the strength and resources which move our country forward. They aspire to the goals, principles, and ideals which are meaningful to all people. It is wrong to malign and accuse this vast group every time a crisis develops.

No, our society is NOT sick. But, I suggest we check the pulse of the self-styled diagnosticians who see a social malady from every soapbox.

FEDERAL FUNDS RECEIVED

The Illinois Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation reported last week that about $1.1 billion in federal funds were used by 13 state government agencies during 1965-67. These funds were received under 100 federal aid programs.

The departments of Mental Health and Public Health and Public Health and Superintendent of Public Instruction administered 50 of the programs but only 16 per cent of the funds. The Department of Public Works and Buildings received almost 37 per cent of the funds under these programs for express highway construction.

Letters to the Editor

17 July 1968

To the People of Antioch:

I want to thank everyone for their contributions to Project Vietnam. I really have enjoyed receiving your packages. Every time I receive a package all the guys in my platoon come running to see what is in it. The cookies, etc., don't last too long, but everyone enjoys them while they do. During the hot weather the pilots really enjoy the Kool-Aid in long flights.

We have missions such as Lat Khe mortar watch where we fly aerial cover in the vicinity of Lat Khe trying to spot enemy mortar positions and knock them out before they can be used. We also fly cover for Bloodhound missions. The Bloodhound ship is equipped with a machine called a "people sniffer." The machine measures the ammonia content in the air and this indicates whether people are in the area or have been there recently. The Bloodhound ship flies at tree top level and we fly at about 1500 feet and navigate for the Bloodhound ship plus provide fire support. If we are in a free fire area we use the door guns to suppress all the hot spots to see if we can get any return fire or a secondary explosion. We also perform other missions for the 1st Division.

We, the Rebels, are the first call gunship platoon for the Division. When a unit in the 1st Division needs a light fireteam to support it, the Rebels are called in to provide the needed firepower. Most of these missions are scrambles but some are pre-planned—not many though. There are other gunship units in and attached to the 1st but our unit receives most of the scrambles and those that we are unable to respond to are given to the other units.

Our platoon recently received orders to move to another company, so things are in a turmoil at the present time. My new address is Sp. 4 James R. Berg R.A. 16901416, Co. B 1st Avn Bn, 1st Inf. Div., APO San Francisco. We hope to be settled in our new company within the next week.

Thank you again for the packages. I really appreciate them and so do the guys in my unit.

Sincerely,

Sp. 4 James R. Berg

Insurance Company Increases Benefits

Over 2½ million Blue Cross and Blue Shield members in Illinois have benefits increased for emergency accident care under their certificates without any increase in rates, according to Robert M. Redinger, chief executive officer of the Plans.

The Blue Cross Plan of Hospital Service Corporation's limitation for emergency care for the initial visit in a hospital emergency room has been extended from 24 hours to within 72 hours following an accident.

The Blue Shield Plan of Illinois Medical Service will pay for emergency accident care benefit for services provided by a physician, wherever rendered, within 72 hours of an accident. The place of service was formerly limited to the outpatient department of a hospital.

"This extension of the 24-hour time limit for emergency accident benefits has been made by these Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans to meet the need of members who may be unable to obtain immediate attention following an accident either in a hospital emergency room or from a doctor," Redinger explained.

Mayor Robert Sabonjian, Waukegan; Mayor Charles Heblor, North Chicago; Judge Philip Yager, and State Representative John H. Kleine.

The parade, sponsored by the City of Waukegan, will launch the formal calendar of events moving out from Weiss Field at 11 a.m. Saturday.

"Nearly 50 floats, marching and drill units, and musical organizations are signed up for the parade which should be one of the biggest ever held in Waukegan," according to Ald. Fred Burgess, parade chairman.

Deadline for parade entries is August 10, Burgess said, adding that entry forms may be obtained in the Zoning Office of the Waukegan City Hall.

Powerboats from a score of Lake Michigan yacht clubs will start arriving in Waukegan Friday, Aug. 16, for the Lake Michigan Yacht Association Boat-In at the Waukegan Yacht Club and many of them will participate in the Venetian Night Boat Parade at the lakefront Saturday, Aug. 17, at 9:30 p.m.

Boat Check.....

charge ports have been physically sealed. Upon sealing of the waster port, the boat owner is issued a decal which indicates that his boat has been checked and approved.

Resort and marina operators have endorsed and are cooperating in the program.

The staff of the Health Department have posted signs advising of these requirements at most of the marinas and launching ramps, and many of the marina operators will not allow a boat containing a toilet to be launched without first assuring themselves that it has been properly sealed.

One way of using shipboard toilet facilities is to provide a holding tank for sanitary wastes that are pumped out into shore facilities as needed. Facilities for pumping boat holding tanks and for adequately disposing of the wastes on shore are available at the Chain of Lakes Marina, Fox Lake Harbor, Lagoona Marina, Pistakee Bay Marina, and at Watts Marina at Fox Lake.

An intensified coordinated effort, between the Lake County Health Department and the Sheriff's Department, to check the effectiveness of this program, will be made next week.

Mike O'Brien, deputy in charge of the Lake County Sheriff's Water Patrol, has announced that a number of boats—selected at random—will be stopped while underway for a safety check.

If a toilet exists, it will also be checked to determine if it is properly sealed. Violators will be charged under the recently enacted boat safety ordinance.

Project Work Is Completed

The week of July 15-19 was a busy one for hundreds of Lake County girls enrolled in 4-H Economics projects.

Tuesday, July 16, the annual Foods Demonstration Contest was held. Nineteen girls demonstrated foods from their projects. The main points on which the girls' demonstrations were judged were their introduction, personal appearance, organized and skillful preparation, accurate and complete explanation of each step, attractive display of finished product, and a good summary.

The blue ribbons are annually furnished by the Lake County Bankers Association. This year, Charles A. Quinlan, Jr., Vice-President of Lake County Bankers Assn., presented the ribbons and announced the grand champion.

Judy Hevredjs, Sequoi Suzies Club, Antioch, was chosen grand champion. Judy demonstrated a French Coffee Cake with Yeast-dough. Since Judy is leaving this week for a trip to Europe, Janice DeKnock, Libertyville, was chosen to represent Lake County at the Illinois State Fair, Aug. 14-16, at Springfield. Janice demonstrated Yeast Sweet Rolls.

All girls over 12 years old, who earned a blue ribbon for their demonstration will be in a foods honor group at State Fair.

The Dress Review Friday evening, July 19, was an exciting climax of a year's work and a busy week of judging and modeling for the girls in first year skirts and beginning knitting. The girls were judged for grooming, poise, accessory coordination and appropriateness of the color, line and design of the garment, as well as construction skills.

Linda Lagerstrom, and Diane Fischer of Antioch will be among the Lake County representatives at the State Fair.

Decorations for the Review were created by the 1967 Club-of-the-Year, Sequoi Suzies of Antioch. Junior leaders acted as Mistress of Ceremonies. Passenger Car Registrations Increase Motor vehicle registration for the first half of 1968 is 196,969 greater than at the same time a year ago, Secretary of State Paul Powell said today.

Total registration as of June 30 of this year was 5,031,653, only 161,656 below the record breaking total for the full 12 months of 1967 of 5,193,218, Mr. Powell said. Last year was the first time registration passed the 5,000,000 mark, he pointed out.

Increases were noted in three of the general classifications—passenger cars, trucks and buses, and trailers and semi-trailers—and decreases in dealers and motorcycles and scooters.

In the meantime, a check of boats in mooring and docking places will be made by sanitarians of the Health Department under the direction of William Garrison, Supervising Sanitarian, who administers the environmental health programs in the northwestern portion of the county. It is estimated that a number of citations will be issued.

Kerchoo! Hay Fever Time is Here Again

Gesundheit! If you suffer from hay fever, beware—it's sneezin' season. By the end of the season—Labor Day, if we're lucky—late summer breezes will have transported about 250,000 tons of ragweed pollen to the millions of Americans who will have suffered from sneezes, sniffles, tears and downright misery.

Many persons plan their vacations to get away from the onslaught of the noxious pollens. But don't head for Dallas, Kansas City, Indianapolis, or Pittsburgh, unless you plan to hibernate in air conditioned, filtered comfort. And, stay away from central Florida, where ragweed pollinates from May until late October, the longest season of any area in the U. S., according to Melvin Karau, Manager of Allergic Products at Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, Ill.

The best refuges, for those able to get away during the height of the season, are described in two free booklets available from Abbott Laboratories. The booklets, entitled "What You Should Know About Hay Fever," and "Hay Fever Holiday," may be obtained free of charge by writing to the company.

If you just can't get away during hay fever season, your best bet is pre-season pollen treatment by your family physician—starting several months ago. It won't do you any good for this season, but think about it well in advance of next sneezin' season. More than 80 per cent of those persons treated obtain relief from the symptoms.

PUBLIC AID ROLLS DECLINE

Public aid rolls declined during May, according to the Department of Public Aid. There were 488,074 persons receiving aid in May, compared to 489,168 in April. The May 1968 caseload was $1,893 above May 1967. Total expenditure for May was $35,778,151.

The body of William Kay, 38, of Chicago Ridge, was recovered Tuesday from Minneola Bay, Fox Lake.

Kay's boat was found empty early Monday with the outboard motor wide open, going around in circles in the bay. Since both sea plugs were open for self bailing of water from the heavy showers earlier in the evening, Kay may have been running the boat by himself and watching over the plugs.

According to water patrol deputies, Kay told his wife about 5 p.m. Sunday night that he was going to help someone start a car.

Insured Can Draw On Transplants

Policy owners can now draw against their life insurance death benefits to finance transplants of heart, liver or kidney for themselves, it is announced by R. C. von Rosenberg, president of Farmers New World Life Insurance Company.

In 1965 the company pioneered the concept of drawing against life insurance death benefits to sustain productive life when it made available such funds to finance artificial kidney machine treatments for policyholders.

The board of directors has now approved extension of this program to the transplant of vital organs.

In a message currently being mailed to policy owners, von Rosenberg states: "Our company... will consider advancing up to 50 per cent of any life insurance policy you have in force with us up to a limit of $25,000 if it becomes necessary to sustain your life by having a transplant of the heart, liver or kidney..."

Salem Firm Hit By Vandalism Again

Vandals have been plaguing the firm of Jack Bloss Trucking, Inc., Salem since it opened a gravel pit last month.

In late June, a caterpillar loader was ruined when someone apparently turned it on and left it running all night.

On July 25, a conveyor loader was burned and on the same night, a fence on the Jack Bloss farm was cut and cows belonging to Robert Van Liere, who rents the pasture, escaped onto the road.

Friday night the fence was cut in three more places. On Saturday, three small holes, apparently from a small calibre gun, were discovered in the trailer which serves as the company office. Two days later, locks were broken off their gas pumps, damaging the locking apparatus and gasoline was stolen.

The Kenosha County sheriff's department investigated the events, but has not found evidence implicating anyone.

The firm is arranging to hire a night watchman. The business is located on Kenosha Co. Hwy. NN, two miles north of Hwy 50.

Blackout Follows

Roger Otto took a big step toward becoming the number one challenger to the point lead now held by Whitey Harris at the Kenosha County Speedway in modified stock car racing. Otto won his second feature race at Wilmot in only four days Saturday when he again took the checkered flag at the end of the 30-lap feature race ahead of an electrical failure that blacked out the entire area. Score came in second.

The feature race for the late models had just been restarted when the track lights and all others in a wide area went out. Automobile headlights were directed into the grandstand and an emergency PA system placed in use advising the fans that the trouble was widespread and that the race was cancelled. More than an hour later, the lights came back on, but the fans had left in an orderly fashion and there were no accidents. The drivers on the track were surprised but brought their cars under control and there were no problems there either. Only three laps had been run in the feature and positions were awarded according to time trials.

Tim Seyl set fast time in the late model division and protected the bonus money put up by his sponsors who have added to the amount each week. Bill Launderville, Jim Smith, Arnie Hausmann and Dick Nelson were heat race winners in the late models.

The modified semi feature race was won by Tom Anderson but he was not in the Yellowjacket modified. That car had blown an engine when he started it at Rockford on the previous night and Tom was in Bryan Russell's second car. Earlier, Tom won the second heat race in this car. Other heats for the modifieds were won by Dick Bentley, Denny McKay and Ken Hanson who beat out Otto and Mouse Wade in the fourth heat.

Potter Wins at Rockford Friday

Claude Potter of Genoa, City just kept racing along and eventually found himself in the lead of the 30 lap modified feature race at the Rockford Speedway Friday and then held off repeated charges of Jim Sullivan of Antioch and finished less than a car length ahead. It was Potter's first feature win at Rockford and his fourth of the season in IRA competition.

The trophy dash was won by Jim Sullivan ahead of Goeden and Harris. It marked the first time in six trips to the Rockford Speedway that Sullivan had not run into trouble before the racing started.

Ten lap heat winners were Dobbs, Harris and Reimer. The Rockford Speedway announced a Special 50 lap feature for Labor Day afternoon for the modifieds.

Pitzen Day Sun. Aug. 11

Lewis Pitzen Day will be celebrated by the McHenry Sportsmen's Club on Sunday, August 11th with a special shoot to honor the man and to commemorate his 27th year of membership in the Club.

Neighbors and countless friends will join in the tribute to Pitzen as one of the earliest pioneers in the Pistakee Bay area. His parents settled on what became the Pitzen Farm 125 years ago, way back in 1843, where Lewis was born later. He still lives on part of the old farm and operates the resort business which he started in 1918, some 50 years ago.

Pitzen, an extremely able and accurate shooter, still pursues this hobby actively, taking on the younger shotgunners and usually beating them. He holds a coveted Honorary Lifetime Membership in the club and is the current vice president.

The public is invited to take part in the celebration and shooting which starts at 11 a.m. On the roster of contests are the ever popular: Hi-Lo-White Bird Shoot, multiple White Bird, Winner-Take-All, Annie Oakley and Protection Shoots for tender-Aged JoPal steaks and chickens.

President Wallace Manz, Fox Lake, posted the August shooting schedule with practice shoots on Saturday 10, 17, 24, and 31, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Prize shoots are slated for Sunday 11 and 25, from 11 a.m. 'til 5 p.m.

Alewives & Cohos On Display At Museum

Exciting possibilities for local fishermen, a probable solution to the problem of smelly, dead alewives and a complex set of unanswered questions for conservationists all are gathered into a single new exhibit at Field Museum of Natural History. It opened August 1.

The colorful exhibit is of the coho salmon. Cohos were caught by the thousands by Lake Michigan anglers last spring and are expected to return from deeper waters for more thrilling fishing late this month. The coho joins 35 other Lake Michigan species and 250 fishes from around the world in life-like displays in Field Museum's Hall of Fishes.

An alewife is also featured in the new exhibit. Millions of alewives die every three years, fouling Lake Michigan beaches. It is hoped that the large, heavy cohos—they reach three feet and 22 pounds, will eat sufficient numbers of alewives to control the small, silvery, shad-like fishes.

More important to Great Lakes fishermen are the angling possibilities. 50,000 cohos were caught last year. This year's catch is expected to be still larger—a new thrill for fishermen since the cohos were first planted from their native West Coast waters to streams tributary to Lake Michigan in 1966. Planting was by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

There is no closed season or size limit for sport fishermen, but there is a maximum allowed catch of eight cohos and trout daily.

"The cohos seem to be an initial success," cautiously com-

Anzinger Wins Sat. Waukegan Feature

Ex-modified pilot Bob Anzinger of Antioch, scored an impressive late model feature win at the Waukegan Speedway Saturday night before a large crowd. Although the Antioch speedster has owned winning cars, this marked the first feature Bob has won as a driver in seven years of competition.

Anzinger had "Lady Luck" on his side for this one as a false start sent Anzinger and John Schmitz shooting through the infield before the green flag was shown. The clutch linkage on Anzinger's "Flower-Power" Chevrolet was damaged, and he completed the event not able to disengage the clutch.

The large field of cars required four late model heats and three hobby stock heat races. Joe Nation won the opening heat while Scott Moore won his first career event on the same track his father did many years ago as he carried the second heat checkered. Hopkins won the third while Jim Cossman took the fourth heat.

The semi-feature turned out to be the closest race of the night as Ray Bush, Mickey Kelly, Bob May and Moore raced bumper-to-bumper for most of the race before Bush and May pulled ahead in a thrilling two car battle. May brought the crowd to their feet in the final lap as he pulled even with Bush at the finish line. Bush was declared the winner in a photo finish.

The hobby stock honors were well divided as James Acuff, Paul Lewis and Bud Herman won the qualifying heats. The feature race was another wild affair with Jim Cossman scoring a close win over Bob Klemm.

A special evening of late model racing on Aug. 17 will include a 50 lap feature in honor of the Illinois Sesquicentennial Celebration being held in Waukegan that weekend.

SUNDAY RACES

A sudden shower halted the Waukegan Speedway modified feature Sunday night. Eight events did make the record book, however, with Roger von Otto of Burlington and Al Horton of Antioch being the double winners.

Promoter Gordon Sill announced the August 11th feature will be extended to 40 laps because of this Sunday's rain-out. Also a 50 lap feature is scheduled for August 18.

Roger Von Otto breezed home the winner of the STP Dash and then stormed right back to snare the fast heat in near record time. Roger's time was only a scant .0009 off the ten lap record.

Al Horton won the opening heat race in easy fashion, then found going a lot rougher in the semi-feature event as Dean Hundley and Ken Monroe shadowed him for most of the race. Hundley spun directly in front of Monroe in the late going opening up the gap for Horton. Monroe moved in for second and Dave Peters took third.

Junior Dodd won the second heat, but the fans' hearts went out to popular Tom Anderson who, in a borrowed car, passed nine cars to take the heat lead and then spun wildly down the homestretch and collided with the concrete wall. Claude Potter won the fourth heat.

The hobby stock action was also shortened by the rain. Don Leicht and Bob Klemm survived the slam-bang action to win the qualifying heats.

Benefit Football Game Sat. At Weiss Field

Football returns to the Lake County Sports scene on Saturday, August 10th, with the presentation of the Second Annual Shrine Charity Benefit Football Game.

Sponsors of the game are the Lake County Shrine Club, headed by Circuit Judge Harry Strouse, of Barrington; the Chain O' Lakes Shrine Club, headed by Will Wagner, of Round Lake, and the Waukegan Motor Patrol of Tebala Temple, Rockford, headed by William Dowden.

Proceeds from the game will be shared by Medinah Temple, Tebala Temple, Tebala Motor Patrol and Shrine programs which include aid to crippled children, hospitals, burn clinics, nursing scholarships, and youth supporting activities. Festivities will get under way

Walter L. Novak, a member of Antioch's police force, proved his efficiency as a fisherman last Thursday night by bringing in a 21-inch, 5 pound bass, using a plastic worm. Many bluegills have been taken over the weekend according to W. Erickson of Jac's Resort.

Dabiero Rejoins Rifle Ranks

Angelo Dabiero, Rifle general manager, has decided to return as an active player for the Lake County Rifles. Dabiero, a Rifle since the club's inception in 1965, made a delayed decision to play. The Notre Dame All-American will divide his time between the Rifle front office and will return to hold position at flanker back.

Dabiero was an all-state high school player at Donora, Pa., in 1958. In 1962, he was voted to the Coach's All-American team. He concluded his college career by playing in the Shriner's East-West game, All-American game, on the College All Stars in 1962.

In 1967, Angie led the Central States Football League in scoring with 13 touchdowns for a 78 point total. The presence of Dabiero, along with Warren Nicholas should give the Rifles one of the most potent passing attacks in the Central States Football League.

Lew Flinn, veteran Rifle quarterback was one individual who was happy over the return of Dabiero. "Angie, beyond a doubt, is one of the most accomplished receivers in the league."

Asked why he was returning as an active player, Dabiero said, "Although running the club from the front office is a full-time job, I feel that I still can make a contribution to the club as a player. I've been working out with the squad just to stay in good physical condition and I feel that I'll be ready for the August 10 Shrine game." Dabiero will also assist head coach Gene Cichowski by coaching Rifle receivers.

Bill Hagstrom, of Antioch, proudly displays the low gross award he won with a score of 60 at the recent Home Builders Assn. Golf Outing held at St. Andrews Golf Club.
